DIALOGUE & PARTICIPATION

The MGF Secretariat coordinated the launch of the State of the Mashreq Women Report and the participation of WB Regional Director Saroj Jha’s as keynote speaker in the July 1 Arab International Women Forum event “The Role of the World Bank in Coordinating Responses to Economic Challenges Further Aggravated by COVID-19 in the Mashreq Region” building on the findings of the Report.

DATA & KNOWLEDGE

State of the Mashreq Women report – The report was launched in a virtual event on June 23 with over 450 participants joining by webex and live streaming. Chaired by the WBG Gender Director Caren Grown, with the WB and IFC Regional Directors Saroj Jha and Beatrice Maser, the report was presented by WB co-authors Matthew Wai-Poi and Miriam Muller. A panel discussion with Ragui Assaad (ERF), Salma Nims (JNCW), Charlotte Karam (AUB) and Rima Assi (McKinsey) focused on women’s economic activity and entrepreneurship in the Mashreq compared to the region and the type of policies required to respond to existing challenges. Also discussed was the role of social norms in society, among employers and employees as well as the role of women in the digital economy. Representatives from the governments of Canada and Norway emphasized the need for evidence-based programming to support women’s economic opportunities.

INNOVATING 4 RESULTS

Enhancing forcibly displaced women’s access to economic opportunities – Inputs on female refugees/IDPs’ economic empowerment in the private sector provided for three policy notes by the WB’s Refugee Investment & Matchmaking Platform. One note focuses on investment selection criteria, suggesting to tap into the potential of refugee/IDP women and nudge investors towards making a difference in the lives of these women, many being heads of households who need to provide for their families. It points to the need to develop a set of refugee- and gender-criteria, providing a way to measure the potential impact of investments on the wellbeing of displaced women, while also respecting the principles identified by the Charter of Good Practice on the Role of the Private Sector in Economic Integration of Refugees. All three notes will be disseminated in September.
