TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The World Bank is an international organization organized and existing under Articles of Agreement signed on behalf of its member governments, including the United States. Article VII of its Articles of Agreement provides, in Section 9(a) thereof, as follows:

“The Bank, its assets, property, income and its operations and transactions authorized by this Agreement, shall be immune from all taxation and from all customs duties.”

Section 9 (a) of the Articles of Agreement has been incorporated into U.S. law by the Bretton Woods Agreement Act (22 U.S.C. 286 et seq).

Accordingly, the Bank has undertaken to have its immunity from taxation formally confirmed with respect to certain taxes by the U.S. Government and several other jurisdictions.

By ruling of November 25, 1960, the U.S. Internal Revenue Services has confirmed that:

“Where the Bank purchases from the manufacturer thereof, an article otherwise subject to the manufacturers excise tax on sales by manufacturers, or purchases from a retailer an article otherwise subject to retailers excise tax or sales by retailers, such transaction will not be taxed.”

Thus, no manufacturers’ or retailers’ tax should be charged to or paid by the Bank on any sale or purchase transaction.

Similarly, the District of Columbia, the State of Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania and the City of New York have all, in writing, confirmed the Bank’s exemption from, respectively, (i) sales tax on sales or purchases made to or by the Bank and the use, storage, or consumption of any tangible personal property and services so sold or purchased in the District of Columbia; (ii) sales tax or purchases of taxable personal property and services purchased for Bank use in Maryland; (iii) sales and use tax in Virginia; (iv) sales and use tax on property or services purchased in Pennsylvania; and (v) sales tax on purchases of tangible personal property and taxable services in New York City.

The above exemptions are cited under “Instructions to Vendor” on the original Purchase Order and in the World Bank standard Terms & Conditions available on the World Bank’s website at <http://www.worldbank.org/corporateprocurement> as noted on the Purchase Order.

Sincerely,

Kenny K. Cheung

Re: Retail Sales and Use Tax Certificate of Exemption
The World Bank

Dear Mr. Rivero,

Thank you for your letter regarding your organization's exemption status for Virginia sales tax purposes.

The Bank is not subject to taxation under Article VII, Section 9 (a) of its Articles of Agreement and inasmuch as this provision of the agreement was incorporated in Section 11 of the "Bretton Woods Agreement Act" (Public Law 171-79th Congress) the Virginia Retail Sales and Use Tax is inapplicable.

Accordingly, if the Bank makes purchases to which the Virginia Retail Sales and Use Tax applies, the purchases may be made exempt of the sales and use tax. This letter may be reproduced and presented to your vendors as evidence of your exempt status. If an employee is reimbursed or uses personal funds to make a purchase on behalf of The World Bank, the tax will apply to the purchases. If your vendors have questions about the exemption, you or they may contact Lillian F. Owens of our Special Taxes and Services Unit at (804) 225-4293 or mail inquiries to Post Office Box 27125, Richmond, Virginia 23261-7125.

Sincerely,

Re: Taxability of International Bank for Reconstruction and Development

Dear Mr. Doud:

Thank you for your very informative letter under date of February 4, 1974.

Upon the basis of the provisions of Article VII, Section 9(a) of the Articles of Agreement executed under the authority of the Bretton Woods Agreement Act, we conclude that purchases of tangible personal property by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development are exempt from Pennsylvania sales and use tax.

At the time of making tax free purchases, we ask that the bank tender to its supplier a blanket exemption certificate, of the type we are enclosing, setting forth thereon the following language: "Property and/or services being purchased by the undersigned purchaser is exempt from tax by virtue of the provisions of Article VII of the Articles of Agreement under authority of the Bretton Woods Agreement Act". Should such become necessary you may also enclose a copy of this letter in support of your exemption certificate. Once issued to a supplier a blanket exemption certificate may be used as to all future purchases.

We wish to point out to you however that the exemption you enjoy does not extend to construction contractors performing construction contracts within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Such contractors are required to pay tax upon any material they install so as to become part of the real estate.

Very truly yours,

Guy J. DePasquale

Re: Virginia Retail Sales and Use Tax
Exemption Request

Dear Mr. Camacho:

This is in response to your letter of February 1, 1990 seeking exemption from the Virginia Retail Sales and Use Tax on behalf of the International Finance Corporation.

The facts submitted indicate that federal law, under Section 9 of the International Finance Corporation Act, exempts the International Finance Corporation ("IFC") from all taxation within the United States. Consequently, purchases of tangible personal property made by the IFC for its own use or consumption are not subject to the Virginia Retail Sales and Use Tax.

Therefore, when IFC purchases tangible personal property for its own use or consumption, the IFC may make such purchases exempt from the tax, provided a copy of this letter is furnished to its vendor. However, if an employee is reimbursed or uses personal funds to make a purchase on IFC's behalf, the tax will apply.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir or Madame:

Your organization is exempt from the District of Columbia Sales and Use Tax as a type of organization described above. In order to make tax-free purchases; a copy of your exemption letter should be given to vendors as evidence of the exempt status. Your organization may only use your exemption letter for purchases of taxable property and services for use and consumption in maintaining, operating, and conducting your activities. Officials, members or employees of your organization may not use your exemption letter for their personal use.

Instrumentalities of the Federal or District of Columbia Government making payments to the vendors with an authorized government purchase order or government check are not required to have an exemption letter.
