Manufacturing water pumps.
Bangladesh. Woman doing laundry in a river. (BD/AC/PEO) (World Bank/Curt Carnemark)
BD-1s-Misc. A typical bus travelling between villages in Bangladesh.

WORLD BANK PHOTO by Tomas Sennett 1974
Crowds of people ride in and on the trains in the Dacca area of Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Tomas Sennett 1974
A man plowing with two oxen in Dacca, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Tomas Sennett.1974
BD-MISC-4s Burmese refugee camp houses 25,000 of the 1.2 million who escaped.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chermush. 1978
BD-MISC-5s  Education and day care for children while mothers attend vocational training in Muktagacha, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
BD-MISC-6s Child on his mother's lap during a children's health checkup in a pediatric clinic in Chittagong, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
BD-MISC-7s  A young boy carrying bundles of grass/straw on his head through rice field in Dacca, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Tomas Sennett. 1974
BD-MISC-8s  Burmese refugee camp in Cox's Bazaar Area, Bangladesh houses 25,000 of the 1.2 million who escaped.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush.  1978
BD-MISC-9s  Cigarette paper rolling brings these young ladies good money. (Sammandhakati, Bangladesh)

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
WORLD BANK
1818 H Street, N.W., Washington D.C., 20433, U.S.A.

MISC-BD-10s Harvesting activity in Kaharole, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
Commercial harvesting of radish crop in Kalihati, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
Women receive vocational training, family planning, and nutrition education at the Women's Rehabilitation and Welfare Foundation (WRWF) in Muctagacha, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
Vendors taking their produce to the market in Cox's Bazaar, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
MISC-BD-14s Cigarette paper rolling brings these ladies good money in Sammandhakati, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
A dollmaker paints his creations.

Please Credit: Tomas Sennett 1974
WORLD BANK PHOTO
Literacy class for women in Jhikargacha, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
Discussions on the radio are another way to impress people with the importance of family planning, Sontosh Palpara, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
MISC-BD-18s  Village lifestyle in Maijpara, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
Vegetable gardening skills are taught to aid women in self-sufficiency in a vocational training center in Dinajpur, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
D-BD-MISC-20s  In Nispara, Bangladesh, day care facility at vocational training center provides an early education. 1978

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush.
Rural scene in Birganj area, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
MISC-BD-22s  During children's health checkups, mothers receive food allotments, Chittagong, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chemush.  1978
MISC-BD-23s Vegetable gardening skills are taught to these women to aid them in self-sufficiency, Dinajpur, Bangladesh.

Please credit: WORLD BANK PHOTO by Kay Chernush. 1978
Woman winnowing rice.

Woman winnowing rice.