Zhang Lan had a heart surgery this year, and spent 100,000 yuan on the operation. Based on the idea of “insurance first, social assistance second”, medical assistance was then provided by the MCA. Medical assistance covered 75% of the rest. Medical insurance covered 70%. Operation Fees: 100,000.
For low-income individuals or individuals that live on minimum living standard guarantee that apply for medical assistance, family members that live with the above-mentioned individuals need to submit written applications to the towns and townships (sub-districts) where their households are registered as well as the following materials:
1. Receipts for clinical care or hospitalization in Beijing and separation certificates on expense settlement issued by authorities governing Urban Employee Basic Medical Insurance, Urban Resident Basic Medical Insurance, New Rural Cooperative Medical System (NRCMS), etc.
2. Certificates of diagnosis issued by medical institutions designated by the medical insurances or the NRCMS of Beijing Municipality.
3. Certificates of diagnosis issued by 2nd level (including 2nd level) medical institutions designated by the medical insurances or the NRCMS of Beijing Municipality when diagnosed with critical illness.
4. Copies of Service Certificates for Child-Bearing in the cases of pregnancy or childbirth.
