Finnish Consultancy Companies

These consultancy companies have expertise in development work, but there has been no formal process for quality control done by the World Bank or the Finnish Government. Bank procurement regulations will apply in all cases.

The following companies which are marked as follows to signal a capacity in one, two or all three of the fields:

- "E" (Environment)
- "S" (Social Development)
- "P" (Poverty)

NIRAS Finland  E, P, S
NIRAS Finland (formerly Scanagri Finland) is one of the biggest European consultancy companies in rural development. In addition to being a lead agency on rural development and livelihoods, agriculture and food (production, technical, agribusiness), the company has extensive experience in private sector development (SME, marketing, processing, trade, value chain), renewable energy and climate change, natural resources management, including forestry, integrated watershed management, coastal zone management, land management, and management of the ‘green’ and ‘brown’ environment including water supply and sanitation. NIRAS Finland has managed numerous projects funded by the government of Finland, as well as, projects funded by the ADB, the AfDB, the EU, the NDF, and the World Bank.

Finnconsult Oy  E, P, S
Finnconsult Oy is a Finnish consulting company specializing in the provision of planning, co-ordination and support services to international technical assistance projects. At present Finnconsult's assignments cover areas of expertise such as development planning, monitoring and evaluation, rural development and natural resources management, health and social development, water supply and sanitation, education and human resources development, infrastructure development, promotion of human rights and democracy, business and private sector development.

Gaia  E
Gaia offers solutions to corporations, governments, cities and local authorities and public institutions, and designs, implements and evaluates complex projects, assesses environmental liabilities and risks, designs sustainable energy solutions, analyses innovation systems and conducts foresight studies.

Impact Consulting Oy  E, P
Impact Consulting Oy Ltd provides consulting services for the design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of international development co-operation as well as for organizational development. The firm works on rural livelihoods and poverty reduction, forestry and natural resources, environment, education, training and human resources development, including supervision as a tool for organizational and institutional development.

Indufor Oy  E, P
Indufor Oy provides consulting services in forest management, forest industry, nature conservation, and environmental management internationally as well as in Finland. Indufor Oy promotes sustainable management and use of natural resources. In all operations ecological, economic, social and cultural aspects are taken into consideration. The firm's objective is to strive for long-term sustainable development, including improving the state of the natural and social environment.

Jaakko Pöyry Infra, Soil and Water  E
Soil and Water Ltd offers its clients a full range of solutions and services in the following areas: Environmental consulting and waste management; water supply and sanitation; spatial planning and architecture; geographic information systems (GIS). The firm assists with assignments of any size, ranging from short-term consulting assignments to major development and investment projects. Committed to a multidisciplinary approach Soil and Water Ltd provides its clients with reliable, cost-effective solutions. Since Soil and Water Ltd's establishment in 1949, the integration of global expertise with local presence has been an essential asset in our business policy. The firm has worldwide experience in more than 50 countries, in both the public and private sectors. Soil and Water has four subsidiaries (Geocenter Ltd, JP-Transplan Oy, JP-Suoraplan Oy and PSV-Soil and Water Ltd), several local offices and an affiliated company (Entec AS) in Estonia. In total the firm employs about 450 experts.