SUBJECT: Tunisia: From Universal Subsidies to a Self-Targeted Program, yellow cover

As I had commented on the white cover version, this is an excellent piece of work on food policy. The analysis is creative and useful for policy advice well beyond your department. In fact, I have kept this in a special box marked "best practices" as an example of the kind of work we should strive for from consultants and staff. I hope Tunisia and the department are following through on the clearly stated policy recommendations.
